Distributor's notes

About the Winery:

Vino de la Tierra de Castilla ~ In the heartland of Don Quixote's Castilla La Mancha you'll find this small family-run winery making wine since the 17th century. The 40 year-old Tempranillo (original rootstock) vines are planted in the parcel "Monte Alto" at 800 m in sandy-clay soils; Syrah and Cabernet Sauvignon vines are 15 - 20 years old, growing at 700 m in the parcel "Pancierto" in limestone, sandy-clay soils. The climate is Continental, which means harsh winters and intense summers forcing vines to be strong; thanks to the altitude, temperatures drop at night and enable the grapes to retain acidity while the daily sunshine gently ripens the tannins, resulting in balanced fruit.

About the Wine:

Pale straw color, clean and bright; intensely aromatic with notes of ripe apples and peaches; balanced with good structure and persistent.
